“First, Unclench Your Fists”

The hardest part of praying is letting go of our resentments, bitterness, and anger --and that means not holding back from God.
~~ BY: Henri Nouwen

Praying is no easy matter. It demands a relationship in which you allow someone other than yourself to enter into the very center of your person, to see there what you would rather leave in darkness, and to touch there what you would rather leave untouched. Why would you really want to do that? Perhaps you would let the other cross your inner threshold to see something or to touch something, but to allow the other into that place where your most intimate life is shaped—that is dangerous and calls for defense.

The resistance to praying is like the resistance of tightly clenched fists. This image shows a tension, a desire to cling tightly to yourself, a greediness which betrays fear.

A story about an elderly woman brought to a psychiatric center exemplifies this attitude. She was wild, swinging at everything in sight, and frightening everyone so much that the doctors had to take everything away from her. But there was one small coin which she gripped in her fist and would not give up. In fact, it took two people to pry open that clenched hand. It was as though she would lose her very self along with the coin. If they deprived her of that last possession, she would have nothing more and be nothing more. That was her fear.

When you are invited to pray, you are asked to open your tightly clenched fist and give up your last coin.

But who wants to do that? A first prayer, therefore, is often a painful prayer because you discover you don't want to let go.

You hold fast to what is familiar, even if you aren't proud of it. You find yourself saying: "That's just how it is with me. I would like it to be different, but it can't be now. That's just the way it is and this is the way I'll have to leave it." Once you talk like that, you've already given up believing that your life might be otherwise.

You've already let the hope for a new life float by. Since you wouldn't dare to put a question mark after a bit of your own experience with all its attachments, you have wrapped yourself up in the destiny of facts. You feel it is safer to cling to a sorry past than to trust in a new future. So you fill your hands with small, clammy coins which you don't want to surrender.

You still feel bitter because people weren't grateful for something you gave them: you still feel jealous of those who are better paid than you are; you still want to take revenge on someone who didn't respect you; you are still disappointed that you've received no letter, still angry because someone didn't smile when you walked by.

“You live through it, you live along with it ...”

You live through it, you live along with it as though it doesn't really bother you...until the moment when you want to pray. Then everything returns: the bitterness, the hate, the jealousy, the disappointment, and the desire for revenge. But these feelings are not just there; you clutch them in your hands as if they were treasures you don't want to let go. You sit wallowing in all that old sourness as if you couldn't do without them, as if, in giving them up, you would lose your very self.

Detachment is often understood as letting loose of what is attractive. But it sometimes also requires letting go of what is repulsive. You can indeed become attached to dark forces such as resentment and hatred. As long as you seek retaliation, you cling to your own past. Sometimes it seems as though you might lose yourself along with your revenge and hate—so you stand there with balled-up fists, closed to the other who wants to heal you.

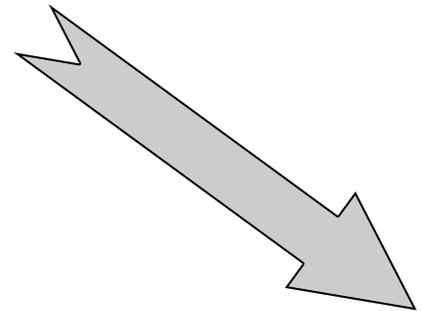

Let us use this season of Lent to unclench that which we hold on to that is now God.

Let us let the Holy Spirit open our hearts and hands to receive all that God has for us and desires us to be in Christ.

On the next page, in the box, is a centering prayer. I invite you to take some time during Lent and share this journey.

Faith Mission Moment

Sandy Voshell, Cindy Saufferer, and Don & Char Frankenberry went to Prince of Peace Church in Burnsville on Thursday, Feb 9, to help Feed My Starving Children.

They were among a group of about 250, that packaged 72,360 packets of food. Each packet of food contained chicken flavoring, dried vegetables, a cup of soy product (protein) and a cup of rice.

Each packet had to be weighed before sealing. After sealing, cardboard boxes were packed—36 packets per box to be sent on their way. The 72,360 packets of food that were made up that morning were enough to feed 198 children, one packet a day, for one year!

Interested in helping? Let Char or Pastor Victor know.

THANK YOU'S

Thank you for your prayers and cards at the time of my brother, Bob's, death. All are greatly appreciated!

- Milk, coffee, water and crackers WILL BE provided.

One Great Hour of Sharing

People from various communities were already assembled, eagerly waiting, when the UMCOR delegation finally reached remote Mutumbami, Zimbabwe. Today the children would take home school supplies from UMCOR's Sager Brown depot.

As the contents of the kits were announced, the eager crowd reacted with smiles and clapping to receive: notebooks, scissors, an eraser, a ruler, crayons, and pencils (LOUD CHEERS!!!). "Never have I seen such excitement about six pencils!" said UMCOR's Melissa Crutchfield, moved to find something so commonplace in her homeland was so prized in this struggling community.

This year marks UMCOR Sager Brown's twentieth anniversary of bringing joy and hope in the form of relief kits to communities around the world - whether school supplies to children in Africa eager to study, or cleaning buckets to families in the United States mucking out their homes after a hurricane, flood or tornado.

God's Steadfast Love

So much of what UMCOR does is about revealing God's steadfast love for humankind. For more than 70 years, UMCOR has brought hope and solidarity to communities at home and abroad in the wake of disaster, and support and expertise to those on a path to development. UMCOR's relief-supply ministry is part of those efforts, gathering the goodwill of selfless volunteers to assemble much-needed relief kits and cleaning buckets to ship to those seeking to become self-sufficient or to rebuild lives and communities following an emergency.

ONE GREAT HOUR OF SHARING

Be a Hero—Help Fight Hunger

March is Minnesota Food Share Month.

There are two ways that you can be a hero this month.

1. The grocery cart will be in the Narthex each Sunday in March. Let's fill it with non-perishable food items, paper products, personal hygiene items and cleaning products each week!
2. You can also make a cash donation - it's easier to collect and deliver - so that the food shelf has the money to buy fresh produce, meat and dairy products when it needs them.

The food shelf can stretch cash donations further because of their access to discount products and programs. If you are donating money, please write on your check memo "Neighborhood Service Center Food Shelf".

Remember that in March our donations are matched pound by pound and dollar for dollar.

Heroes!"

United Methodist Women NEWS

The United Methodist Women calendar is busy this spring! Following are dates to put on your calendar. There will be more information coming, so watch for posters and Roberta will be sharing information at the Circle meetings.

March 11—March is Minnesota Food Share Month. Cindy Coy from the Waseca Area Neighborhood Service Center will give a brief presentation during worship.

March 18—MISSION SUNDAY and the 1st ANNUAL CHILI COOK-OFF!

Mark your calendars now... Instead of the mission jars as we have done in the past, we are having a Chili Cook-off. Please let Char Frankenberg (833-7489) know if you are planning to bring a pot of chili and compete. Jars to collect "votes" will be on the tables in front of the pots of chili. You vote by placing money in the jar—and the one with the most wins! NOTE: All proceeds will be given to Emma Norton Services.

April 11—Spring Luncheon! The sandwiches and salad are always very tasty and there will be a wonderful selection of cakes! Invite a friend and enjoy a relaxing lunch together in our Fellowship Hall.

April 28—Women's Retreat. The Women's Retreat this year is going to be great! Our main presenter for the day is Ruth Wiertzema and her presentation is titled, "Doll Party". It's going to be a fun day filled with a meaningful message, food and fellowship. Everyone is encouraged to bring a friend!

April 21—Southern Prairie Spring Gathering will be held in Madelia. We would love to see a good representation, so please let Roberta know if you are interested in going!

Consider joining a Circle. If an evening meeting works better for you—please call Edy Barber or Roberta Walker to discuss.

NURSES NOTES: Smelling Your Way to Feeling Better

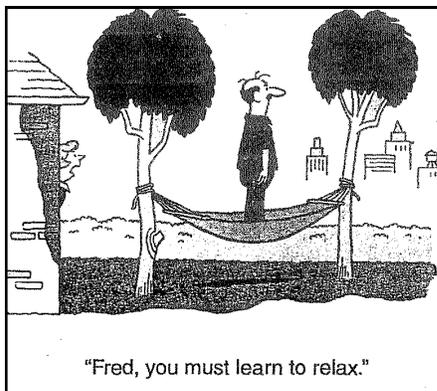

The sense of smell may be more important than you think. Some of our fondest memories come immediately back to us when we smell that smell again... For example: the smell of bread baking, garden flowers, fresh cut hay, air after a rain. On the other hand, have you ever experienced smelling salts?!

Aromatherapy is a complementary medicine, involving the “therapeutic use of essential oils from plants (flowers, herbs or trees) for the improvement of physical, emotional, and spiritual well-being.” They are used in the U.S. via inhaling and applying to the skin. When something gives off a scent, or odor, certain molecules of that lotion or oil are literally reaching the brains emotional center, called the limbic system, and triggering various physiological responses. Skilled application of certain “aromatic oils may exert antibacterial, anti-inflammatory, and analgesic (pain relieving) effects.”

At the Mayo Clinic, aromatherapy is used to relieve nausea and vomiting in cancer patients. It also is used for stress and anxiety treatments. The only downside is a possible allergic reaction to a particular oil on the skin.

A few of the aroma’s used include: lavender, chamomile, marjoram, rosemary, peppermint and eucalyptus. Here’s a tip: when planting flowers at the entrance to your house, consider lavender, it’s smell causes a sense of calm and peace.

Scriptures refer to the use of oils in the birth and death of Jesus. Additional examples include: “Is anyone of you sick? He should call the elders of the church to pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord.” (James 5:14) “Perfume and incense bring joy to the heart, and the pleasantness of one’s friend springs from his earnest counsel (Proverbs 27:19)

Be careful about using fragrances around others; what might be appealing to you, may be noxious to, or cause an allergic reaction in, another. The use of perfumed candles is an example. When in doubt—play it safe and go without.

Peace and Grace—

UMCOR Updates

US: CLEANUP IN NEW JERSEY

The tireless work of United Methodist volunteers and UMCOR to provide assistance in the wake of Hurricane Irene has been recognized in New Jersey. UMCOR recently received a letter of commendation from the State of New Jersey. The letter notes UMCOR's contributions in the recovery through volunteers and support.

You can help families recovering after a disaster by volunteering and giving to US Disaster Response, UMCOR Advance #901670.

ALABAMA: VOLUNTEERS CRITICAL TO RECOVERY

Even with a firm disaster response plan and well-trained personnel in the North Alabama Annual Conference, no one could anticipate the enormous response that would be required when 62 tornadoes struck the state on April 27, 2011. Volunteers held the key to the task ahead.

More than 70 early response teams from both in and out of state immediately responded to the needs of Alabamians with damaged or destroyed homes. Six months later, North Alabama continues to host hundreds of volunteers; nearly 800 volunteers have already visited the state with the North Alabama Conference Disaster Recovery Team to help rebuild.

Recovery continues! Support UMCOR's efforts to help Alabama and other communities rebuild after disaster by giving to US Disaster Response, UMCOR Advance #901670. Also, consider volunteering your time to help with recovery.

GLOBAL: WORLD WATER DAY, March 22

Use World Water Day on March 22 as an opportunity to learn and share with others about water issues around the world.

At Old Mutare Hospital, a United Methodist

Hospital in Zimbabwe, access to clean water is a constant struggle. Expectant mothers must cook their meals in an outdoor kitchen and fetch water from one of two wells on the hospital grounds. When it is time for mothers to deliver their babies, nursing staff rely on a bucketful of water and an UMCOR birthing kit. Zimbabwe still faces emergency humanitarian challenges in the form of water-related diseases like cholera, food shortage, and limited access to basic services.

Give to support UMCOR's water programs, Global Water and Sanitation, UMCOR Advance #3020600.

RELIEF SUPPLIES: SCHOOL KITS NEEDED

UMCOR and partner International Orthodox Christian Charities (IOCC) have been helping school children in the Gaza Strip by supplying them with school kits. Last year IOCC, working with local partners, distributed nearly 16,000 UMCOR-donated kits to children in four of the five governorates in Gaza.

The kit ministry continues in 2012. Some 35,000 kits already have been committed to Armenia and Georgia, and additional shipments are planned for Haiti and South Sudan. Eager students around the world are happy to receive blessings from UMCOR in the form of pencils, crayons, paper, and other necessary items to assist them in their learning.

Your help is needed to provide hope in the form of a school kit to children like those in Gaza. Lend your support to help our depots replenish their school kit supplies. You can give toward the purchase of these items by giving to Material Resources, UMCOR Advance #901440. The cost of one school kit is about $11.00.

Common Table Highlights

Camping and Retreats future

Minnesota United Methodist camps and retreats will take place at Northern Pines Assembly Grounds (Park Rapids) and Koronis Ministries (Paynesville) beginning in 2013, the Retreats and Camping Ministry Team has determined.

An earlier determination was that the camping ministry's most effective role in the overall Minnesota United Methodist mission is to provide faith-nurturing classic residential camps for youth and children. Camps and retreats for special activities or other ages would be secondary priorities. Property analysis from an independent consultant led RCMT to base all its programs at these two sites.

"We've discovered we can't afford to own five properties and lease one," said Rocky Wilson, director of retreats and camping ministries. "The overhead cost is too high and revenue is not meeting the cost. We need to let go of some property so we can continue this ministry into the future."

The team is recommending that the Minnesota Conference divest of Camp Kingswood (Mound) and Star Lake Wilderness Camp (Pequot Lakes), to maximize resources for future camping and retreats ministry. The camping consolidation is part of RCMT's strategic plan to offer excellent children and youth ministries and operate a financially viable ministry.

Wesley Center developing plans

A 12-person board is proposed to oversee a multi-use plan for the Wesley Center, the building which formerly housed the Wesley United Methodist Church faith community in downtown Minneapolis, Dennis Alexander, director of Minnesota Conference urban and multicultural ministries, reported.

The center's purposes would be to preserve a national landmark; house ministries like new faith communities, weekly community meals, employment training, and Twelve-Step meetings; and provide space for community meetings, performances, education, and more.

New Harmony United Methodist Church and Twelve-Step groups already meet in the building. Representatives from Council on Administration and Finance, Board of Trustees, and Congregational Development Ministry Team will discuss the proposal before sending it on to the Common Table, Board of Trustees, and others who may have a role in making the decision about this building's use and ministry deployment.

2013 budget request below ceiling

Common Table voted to affirm a 2013 Minnesota Conference budget of $6,298,788. This request relies on estimates received on Feb. 2 for General Church apportionments. General Church apportionments will be confirmed after General Conference meets April 24-May 4 and approves a denomination-wide budget. This request is below the ceiling limit, or maximum, set by annual conference session and is lower than the 2012 budget.

Shared giving is declining

Minnesota United Methodists' contributions toward their shared mission and ministry fell in 2011 to $320,000 less than their 2010 giving, reported Barbara Carroll. The apportionment receipt rate for 2011 came to 84.2 percent of the total apportioned to the churches—as opposed to the 86 percent of recent years. Apportionment receipt rates had steadily come to close to 86 percent most of the year; remittances decreased significantly in December.

Decisions facing General Conference

"There is a lot of hope invested in the 2012 United Methodist General Conference," said Bishop Sally Dyck of the upcoming denomination-wide gathering of policy-making, worship, and celebration. She highlighted these decisions facing the international church body of 1,000 delegates, which meets every four years: organizational changes that would streamline the board structure that governs the denomination's boards and agencies, establishing a role of non-residential bishop, changes to the deployment and credentialing of clergy, a covenant to continue work toward making the church in the United States a central conference with equal (rather than dominant) status with United Methodist bodies around the world, and social justice issues.

Board Governance

The Common Table has been examining a board model for policy governance. Cindy Gregorson, Minnesota Conference director of ministries, reported that a small group researching such a model has discussed some foundational concerns. Under board governance, Gregorson said the board becomes a leadership team, gains clarity about where to go and how to get there, is more focused on outcomes, and grants freedom to those taking action toward the outcomes.

Conference board functions are now divided among Council of Finance and Administration, Board of Trustees, and the Common Table, which work independently of each other.

Next meeting: The Common Table next meets on April 12.

working to recover from Cyclone Nargis, which killed more than 100,000 people in 2008. United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR) partner Church World Service (CWS) has been working there to help in the recovery and to build local capacity to respond to future disasters.

The recent cease-fire has also created more opportunities for ongoing work in the country. UMCOR is supporting CWS in their efforts to provide training sessions that increase the skills in communities and to develop programs to meet local needs as well as prepare for future events.

Gifts to International Disaster Response, UMCOR Advance #982450, provide for disaster response and recovery worldwide.

PHILIPPINES: INCONVENIENT MINISTRY

For more than a year, Angie Brancano, director of the Harris Memorial College program that is UMCOR and Global Ministries' local partner, has worked with the Dumagats to confront their isolation by creating sustainable communal and backyard farms, providing alternative learning classes, and establishing pure water sources, sanitation, and healthy living.

"This visit showed me that to be in ministry with the poor is to serve people who live in inconvenient places; who are ignored by most government and NGO services; who are shunned as different or inscrutable; whose traditional way of life is so challenged by contemporary values (especially the predominance of individual security over the common good) that they literally find themselves between a rock and a hard place with regard to livelihood, education, and health care, the basic elements of a successful life," writes Linda Unger in the UMCOR blog.

Help support the ongoing work of this program by giving to Comprehensive Community Development Project for Dumagat Communities, Advance #3021302.

JAPAN: RECOVERING LIVES AND LIVELIHOODS

UMCOR is partnering with Global Medic to provide assistance to the people in Miyagi Prefecture, Japan, which was heavily affected by last March's tsunami. While much of the rubble has been removed and the area has begun to rebuild, many have lost their livelihoods and are unable to provide for their families.

UMCOR grants are helping survivors to regain economic independence. Global Medic is working with local partner, HOPE-Japan, to support local fisheries and provide shelters for local businesses to warehouse supplies.

When you give to International Disaster Response, UMCOR Advance #982450 you support UMCOR's response to disasters such as the earthquake and tsunami in Japan.
